Leibniz-Institut für Psychologie

The Leibniz Institute for Psychology Information (ZPID) in Trier (Germany) is an internationally recognized research-based psychology service center located in Trier (Germany) and belongs to the Leibniz Association. ZPID puts a strong emphasis on open science and is currently establishing research groups in science reception, psychological meta-science, and big data in psychology.

Postdoctoral Researcher (f/m/d)

(salary group TV-L E13, full-time, 24 months)

Preferred starting date: as soon as possible after January 1, 2027.

As part of the project funded by the High-Tech-Agenda Rheinland-Pfalz, we want to harness our archived, high-quality psychological research data for modeling human behavior and cognition using Large Language Models (LLMs). By harnessing and transforming ZPID's large-scale archival research datasets and materials, the successful candidate will fine-tune and evaluate open-source LLMs for predicting human behavior and cognition, curate psychological benchmark databases for training and testing LLMs as well as document and publish the results in academic journals and proceedings.

Tasks:

- Fine-tuning and evaluation of Large Language Models using high-quality psychological research data and materials
- Retrieving, pre-processing, and curating psychological survey, experimental, and (neuro)physiological datasets
- Documenting results and writing empirical articles
- Supervising research assistants

Your profile:

- PhD in (computational) psychology, computer science (or a related field)
- Experienced in employing, fine-tuning, and evaluating Large Language Models
- Interest in data science and cognitive AI
- Profound English language skills (spoken and written), knowledge of German is an advantage

We offer:

- An exciting scientific environment with a cutting-edge computational infrastructure
- The opportunity to realize your own research ideas
- Excellent teamwork in a friendly and collegial atmosphere
- Family-friendly working conditions (certified by Audit berufundfamilie)
- Flexible hours and partial remote work
- Salary according to TV-L pay group E 13, including an annual special payment
- Supplementary pension scheme (VBL)
- Company health management
- Access to the facilities of Trier University
